The West Settler's Building, located at 135 NW 5th Avenue.
On May 30, 2008 we lost a dear member of the Delray Beach community and CRA family—Carolyn Quince Holder. She was a brave woman, fearlessly devoted to her fight against crime and drugs in the Southwest Neighborhood. She also showed amazing dedication to the community and the CRA mission. She diligently managed properties, tenants, and relationships for the agency, even as she battled her own illness.

The CRA dedicated the apartment building at 133 NW 5th Avenue to her memory on what would have been Carolyn’s 59th birthday, August 27, 2008. Carolyn Quince Court, as it is called, is the last CRA project Carolyn helped complete. Although she only worked for the CRA for five years, Carolyn made a deep impression on each of us that will last a lifetime. She is deeply missed and her memory will be forever cherished in our hearts.
The priorities of the Delray Beach CRA are guided by the agency’s mission to eliminate blighted conditions, foster redevelopment, and encourage economic growth. While recent shifts in the economy and property values have directly impacted revenues, the agency remains committed to the projects and goals outlined in the CRA plan.

The majority of the CRA’s revenues were derived from City (52%) and County (32%) tax increment financing (TIFs), but a portion came from land sales (12%) and other sources, including the Delray GreenMarket and property rentals (3%). During the 2007-08 fiscal year, the CRA funded a variety of initiatives, including grant programs, neighborhood improvements, affordable housing, and transportation projects, accounting for nearly three quarters of total expenses (73%). Administrative costs accounted for nine percent (9%) of total expenditures, while 16% of funds were applied to debt service.

NEW TO THE TEAM

Finance Director Lori Hayward joined the CRA staff in October 2008, bringing more than 20 years of professional experience to the agency. She spent the majority of her career as finance director for the National Ovarian Cancer Coalition. Lori is a native of south Florida. She is married with two teenage children.
The CRA made significant headway on several projects throughout the district in 2008. The goal of beautifying and reducing speeds along the US 1 Corridor took a step forward with the installation of temporary traffic barriers along NE/SE 5th and 6th Avenues between George Bush Blvd. (NE 8th Street) and SE 10th Street. The barriers are in the areas where the landscaping and parking improvements could ultimately be installed. The purpose of the temporary trial is to determine the impact of having one less lane of traffic for vehicles to use. The CRA budgeted $360,000 for the project. The trial will last for one year, through April 2009. If the project is approved, the temporary modifications will remain in place until permanent improvements are installed.

The CRA contributed to other transportation projects as well. In 2008, the infrastructure and streetscape improvements to the Downtown Bypass System (NE & SE 1st Streets) were completed. Both streets will convert to two-way traffic after the installation of new traffic signals, which is projected to be completed in 2009. The CRA also contributed more than $153,000 to the Downtown Roundabout, which continued to grow last year as more riders used the free shuttle service to navigate the downtown area. The City also began testing a new route through the Pineapple Grove Arts District in late 2008 to help increase pedestrian traffic in the area.

Remediation of the environmental issues in the Carver Square subdivision neared completion this past year. After obtaining a Brownfield designation for the area, the CRA successfully applied for a low-interest loan from the South Florida Regional Planning Council to fund the cost of the soil remediation. That phase of the project, which began in September 2008 and was completed in January 2009, cost approximately $450,000. The remediation involved the removal of organic matter, tires and other trash that had been buried on the site more than twenty years ago. The site has been fully stabilized and will accommodate twenty affordable single-family homes.

Redevelopment also continues along NW 5th Avenue. The interior and exterior renovation of the West Settler’s Building (135 NW 5th Ave.) is nearly complete. The approximately $630,000 project will provide four condominium units on the top floor and two commercial bays on the ground floor. The CRA also acquired the property located at 182 NW 5th Ave. to expand the Spady Museum campus. The purchase will create more space for public parking, and the restoration of the house will help maintain the architectural character of the West Settler’s Historic District. The adjacent Spady Museum will also lease a portion of the building for additional office space.

Last year, the CRA also finalized plans and began working on the beautification of the La Hacienda neighborhood, along Lake Avenue North and Lake Avenue South adjacent to the North Federal Highway corridor. The joint venture with the City includes identification signage at the neighborhood entrances, landscaping, sidewalks, and swale improvements. The CRA spent $1,900 for planning last year, and has allocated an additional $250,000 for improvements this year.

Other beautification projects include Sunshine Park and the beautification of Martin Luther King Drive. Sunshine Park, located along the I-95 barrier wall on SW 15th Avenue, was designed as a passive neighborhood park to add greenspace in the Southwest Neighborhood. The park was completed in September 2008. The CRA has also allocated funds for City improvements to MLK Drive. Plans are still being finalized with input from community members.
In January 2008, the Downtown Marketing Cooperative expanded its staff and hired a new marketing coordinator, Stephanie Immelman (pictured left). For the past year, Stephanie has concentrated exclusively on marketing for the West Atlantic Area and Pineapple Grove Arts District by working closely with merchants, community groups, city officials and board members. So far, she has coordinated marketing campaigns, produced various publications and organized many special events to help attract customers to local businesses. The position is funded entirely by the CRA.

The CRA also facilitates economic development through a number of grant programs. Many local nonprofit and cultural organizations receive Community Sponsorship Grants in support of the programs and special events they produce that benefit our community. In 2008, Community Sponsorship funds supported the Roots Cultural Festival, the Hispano-Latino Cultural Alliance, the Spady Cultural Heritage Museum, the Digital Divide program, the West Atlantic Redevelopment Coalition, and many others.

Lents Pilates received a Business Development Assistance Grant in August 2008. The program allows new businesses in the West Atlantic Redevelopment Area and Pineapple Grove Arts District to receive up to $6,000 in rent assistance over the course of a year. Lents Pilates, located in City Walk on Pineapple Grove Way, is the first business in the Pineapple Grove Arts District to receive the grant.

The CRA also assisted several property and business owners with exterior improvements through the Site Development Assistance Program. A total of $84,899.54 was awarded to several businesses in 2008, including Crepes by the Sea (NE 5th Ave.), Mixam, Inc. (West Atlantic Ave.), Aloha Dry Cleaners (NE 2nd Street), Sands Terrace Condominium Association (NE 1st Ave.), and NW 5th Avenue Associates (102-110 NW 5th Ave.). Badi, Inc., which received a $50,000 Development Regions grant from Palm Beach County, completed an extensive renovation of the food market located at 139 NW 5th Avenue. The CRA contributed $25,000 in matching funds to the project, which included a building expansion and façade improvements, landscaping, and paver brick sidewalks, and resulted in the creation of several new jobs.

The CRA also extended an agreement with the City of Delray Beach and the Center for Technology, Enterprise and Development (TED Center) to encourage business owners in the CRA District to develop their entrepreneurial skills. The CRA is providing a total of $30,000 over a two-year period to subsidize the cost of business incubator services provided by the TED Center.

In an effort to stimulate further economic development in the West Atlantic area, the CRA contributed $270,000 toward the operations of the Delray Public Library. The independently run nonprofit organization acts as a cultural and social anchor for West Atlantic Avenue, bringing hundreds of people to the area each day through its educational programs, group discussions, computer classes, and cultural performances.

In November 2008 the CRA Plan was amended to allow the agency to sponsorship major tournaments at the municipal tennis center on West Atlantic Avenue. These tournaments, which attract hundreds of thousands of people to our city, generate business for our downtown merchants, hotels, shops and restaurants.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

In October, the CRA’s Delray GreenMarket began its 13th season in a new location. It is now held in the parking lot on NE 2nd Ave., a half block north of Atlantic Avenue in the Pineapple Grove Arts District. We’re just steps away from the free parking garage at Old School Square, and we’ve added more vendors now that we have more space. The mission of the Delray Beach CRA is to foster and directly assist in the redevelopment of the Community Redevelopment Area in order to eliminate blight, create a sustainable downtown and encourage economic growth, thus improving the attractiveness and quality of life for the benefit of the CRA District and the City of Delray Beach as a whole.
